Sorry but we can no longer ship kits internationally.

AUGUST 13TH (Friday) IS 'LEFT HANDER'S DAY' and Jester Lowell is a lefty,
SO.....

Jester would like to offer his electronic scrolling badges for sale since he wears one when we are out vending. Usually his badge says, "I need chocolate".

Lets just say quilters sure do spoil him with chocolate.

They always seem to have some on hand.

These are so fun to wear everywhere. Get a badge and have a voice without having to speak a word. :) Makes a fun gift. Get it here!_

THIS QUEEN CAN COOK

Usually I add an awesome recipe here but instead I wanted to give a great summer grilling hint. You know how chicken gets so dry on the grill by the time it is cooked? Well, first put your chicken pieces onto a round glass pie plate. If you are cooking drumsticks, put the meaty side out. Microwave on high for 10 minutes then put them on your grill. They remain moist and cook up really fast.

Okay, I succumb, here is a recipe. It is my own version of BBQ sauce and it is awesome. (the queen must always be arrogant. :P)

Take a bottle of regular bbq sauce, a bottle of chili sauce, and put in a big glop of real maple syrup (don't know exactly how much but doesn't matter). Mix together and put on your meat. Gourmet sauce and how easy is that! The syrup glazes the meat. Yummy!
