

HAPPY THANKSGIVING
SEASON EVERYONE!

Diane/Queen of Stained Glass Quilts & Jester

A FAIRY TALE...ok, this is really a true story

Once upon a time there lived a very beautiful Queen of Stained Glass Quilts that every time her husband, the Jester, looked at her he got a tear in his eye because of her beauty. Ok, truth be told, she looked no more or no less beautiful than any other quilter & maybe the tear in his eye was because of dust because she has been very busy designing quilt patterns instead of dusting.

Well this Queen and her Jester decided that they needed to grow something wonderful on their small acreage which they were going to call "Oleo Acres" because it was one of the cheaper spreads but thought that sounded cheesy so they decided on "Paint Creek Farm". How cute is that? But what could they grow? They decided to grow garlic, but not just any garlic, garlic that would be the most organic, probably in the entire United States. Why? Because they live on top of a rock and their garlic would not even have the drift from chemicals used on the farmland around them. Well, dear Jester crawled around on his knees and planted over 15,000 bulbs! Then he covered them with a warm blanket of straw so they could rest until spring and could be harvested in July. He now has the title of 'Garlic Master' and plans to have a website up soon so we can sell all of this lovely garlic. So now the Jester and his Queen will remain looking funny, acting funny and now they will smell funny but they will live happily ever after for a long time because garlic can help you live longer.

P.S. So now we know what we have been doing lately.

Remember that I came out with PINWHEELS not too long ago. I told you they were 12" across. That is so hard to picture so I had Lowell take a picture of me in our booth so you could see how large they are. Think how fun they would be to make & give to someone in the hospital or just put one in a potted plant at your office. I know I am taking a risk by showing what I really look like. I am always worried that the Enquirer magazine will find me and put me on the cover with Brad Pitt again..I really don't find him that attractive.

QUEEN'S CHALLENGE

I am so thankful for so much as I'm sure all of you are also!

Since this is the season for thankfulness I would like to challenge each of us to go to our fabric stash, pick up 5 pieces of fabric and donate them to any group who sews quilts to donate to others.

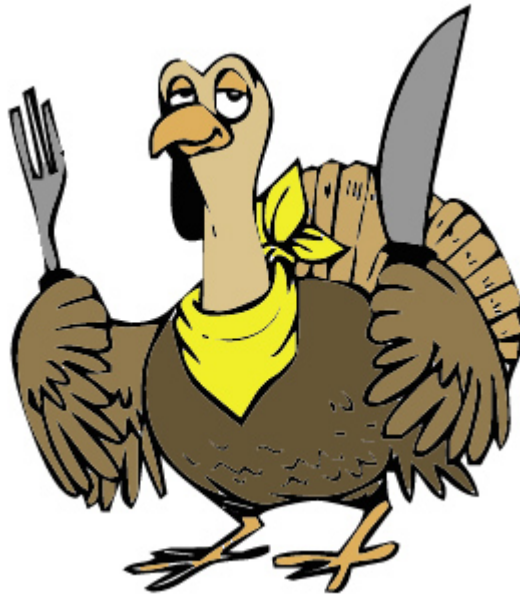

Don't measure the fabric or think about it too much.

Just grab 5 pieces & give them away! Easy huh?

I would love to hear about what fabrics you found to donate and if you even remembered buying them in the first place...ha ha.

THIS QUEEN CAN COOK!

Jester's favorite 3 BEAN SALAD

(why buy it in the deli when it's so inexpensive & easy to make?)

Drain and put into a bowl: 1 can wax beans

1 can green beans

2 can kidney beans

You could add another kind of beans you like

Chop and add: 1/2 cup celery and 1/2 cup onion

Mix together: 1/3 cup vinegar or apple cider vinegar

2 T. oil

2/3 cup sugar

1 tsp. salt

Pour over the beans, celery and onion and toss together. Refrigerate at least a few hours. Enjoy!

Don't forget to check out my patterns!
Shipping is still only $2 (USA orders only).
