ASK THE QUEEN ANYTHING....

The Queen of Stained Glass Quilts & Her Jester Lowell

You may have seen his face at quilt shows. He is so cute and he is the love of my life too and we were high school sweethearts and have been married 35 years this year in August. :)

IN MY LAST NEWSLETTER I BEGAN SOMETHING NEW CALLED... "ASK THE QUEEN ANYTHING"

So, here is the first question from Cindy:

Can sewing thread get too old to use?

Answer from the Queen!

Dear Cindy,

We seem to have the notion that thread is something to be passed down generation to generation. NOT! Thread does have a shelf life and if it is exposed to air or light for too long, it can get brittle. I just pull some thread off the spool and with the spool in one hand and the end of the thread in another I give it a gentle tug. That usually tells me if it is rotten or not. Now if you have been working out with weights, don't tug too hard. (As if we have time to lift weights and quilt too.)

CROWN OF THORNS

If it can't be used for sewing anymore put it in a cute jar and set it on your counter. :)

Isn't it great that while I am tracing, cutting & fusing that I can figure out why things are as they are? ha ha

"CROWN OF THORNS" Kit $59:
Includes the pattern, all fabrics,

Just finished four "Window Peeker" crowns, and had to share. They were soooo much fun to do, and I plan to make more as time permits.

Since I used to work for Janome as an educator, I went a little nuts with the decorative stitches. I plan to give these as gifts to my daughter Amanda, and two friends. Of course I get to keep one!

Thanks for the great idea. Best wishes, Cynthia Scott

Your crown is gorgeous I love all the stitching! Thanks for sharing. Queen Diane
